Basic eligibility factors for the Canada Pension Plan Survivor's pension

To qualify for a Survivor's pension:

- you must have been legally married or in a common-law union with your deceased spouse or common-law partner at the time of his/her death; and
- your deceased spouse or common-law partner must have made enough contributions to the Canada Pension Plan; and
- you must apply in writing and submit the necessary documents.

If you were legally separated from your deceased spouse at the time of his/her death, you may still qualify for a Survivor's pension.

NOTE: If you were under 35 years of age at the time of your spouse's or common-law partner's death, you do not qualify for a Survivor's pension unless:

- you are disabled; or
- had a dependent child of the deceased at the time of your deceased spouse's or common-law partner's death.

Definition of spouse and common-law partner

Under the Canada Pension Plan:

- a spouse is a person to whom you are legally married;
- a common-law partner is a person of the opposite sex or same sex who has been living in a conjugal relationship for at least one year.

Did your deceased spouse or common-law partner contribute to the Régime de rentes du Québec (Quebec Pension Plan)?

A person may contribute to both the Canada Pension Plan and Quebec Pension Plan. The contributions made under both plans are combined when a benefit entitlement is calculated. If your deceased spouse or common-law partner only contributed to the Quebec Pension Plan, or if he/she contributed to both plans and resided in Quebec, or the last province of residence in Canada was Quebec at the time of death, you should contact:

La Régie des rentes du Québec
P.O. Box 5200
Quebec, Quebec

Filling out your application

The following information explains how to complete the application form. Where needed, explanations have been provided. These explanations match the box numbers on the application form. If you have any questions, please call us at the telephone numbers listed in the section called "How to contact us".

Section A: Information about your deceased spouse or common-law partner

Box 1A Social Insurance Number

Enter your deceased spouse's or common-law partner's Social Insurance Number in this box.

The Survivor's pension is based on how much, and for how long, the deceased contributed to the Canada Pension Plan. We keep a record of the contributions made to the Canada Pension Plan by individuals under their Social Insurance Number. To make sure that we use your deceased spouse's or common-law partner's record, you must indicate his/her Social Insurance Number in question 1A.

If the deceased had more than one Social Insurance Number, please attach a note to your application, listing all numbers assigned to the deceased.

Box 1B Date of birth

You do not need to provide proof of birth for the deceased if you provided their Social Insurance Number in the application. However, the Canada Pension Plan has the right to request proof of birth at any time, when deemed necessary.

If you did not provide the Social Insurance Number of the deceased, then you must submit a certified true copy of the deceased's original birth certificate.

If you do not have this document and the deceased was born in Canada, you can obtain a copy of the deceased's birth certificate by contacting the provincial or territorial birth, marriage or death registration office in the province or territory where the deceased was born.

For people born in Canada, acceptable birth certificates are ones issued by a Provincial birth, marriage or death registration office. You can find the telephone numbers in the provincial or territorial government listings of the telephone book (usually listed as a Provincial Vital Statistics office). If you cannot get one of these documents, please call us. One of our service delivery agents will let you know what other kind of documents you can use to confirm the deceased's date of birth.

Box 2B Date of death

You must submit proof of your deceased spouse's or common-law partner's date of death with your application. To be accepted as proof, the document must give the name, date and place of death of your deceased spouse or common-law partner. The document must be on official letterhead or contain a seal, and provide the name and/or signature of the person or authority issuing the document. The following documents may be accepted as proof of date of death.

ACCEPTABLE DOCUMENTS FOR PROOF OF DEATH

- Burial or Death Certificate
- Certification of Death from another country, if an agreement on social security exists with that country
- Life or Group Insurance Claim along with a statement signed by a medical doctor
- Medical Certification of Death
- Memorandum of Notification of Death issued by the Chief of National Defence Staff
- Notarial copy of Letters of Probate
- Official Death Certificate
- Official Notification from the Public Trustee for a Province
- Registration of Death
- Statement of a medical doctor, coroner or funeral director
- Statement of Verification of Death from the Department of Veterans Affairs

Box 3

Marital status at the time of death

If you were married to the deceased at the time of death, we need documents to confirm the date of your marriage. When possible, a certified true copy of your original marriage certificate should be submitted.

If you are unable to obtain this document, please contact us to obtain the form titled "Statutory Declaration of Legal Marriage", along with any additional documentation and return it with your application.

If you and the deceased were living in a common-law relationship, the form titled "Statutory Declaration of Common-law Union" and additional documentation must be submitted to confirm the start date of your common-law union. Please contact us to obtain this form.

Box 6

Did your deceased spouse or common-law partner ever live or work in another country?

Canada has international agreements on social security with many countries. If your answer to question 6 is yes, you should provide us with the name of the country and the insurance number issued to the deceased by that country.

The deceased may have accumulated credits that could help qualify the estate or survivors for Canadian benefits under an international social security agreement. The deceased's Canada Pension Plan credits can also help qualify the estate or the survivors for a foreign pension. You will be advised in writing if either of the above conditions apply to the deceased.

Section B: Information about you (the surviving spouse or common-law partner)

Box 7A

Your Social Insurance Number

Enter your Social Insurance Number in question 7A. If you have more than one Social Insurance Number, please attach a note to your application, listing all your Social Insurance Numbers.

You do not need to provide proof of birth with your application. However, the Canada Pension Plan has the right to request proof of birth at any time, when deemed necessary.

In this box, please tell us in which language you would like to get letters from us. Check only one box.

Box 8B

Verbal communication

Please check the language - English or French - you would like to use when you talk to us.

You can choose a different language for written communication than the one you choose for verbal communication. For example, you can ask to receive your letters in English, and you can ask to use French when talking to one of our agents.

Box 14

Are you disabled?

If you were under the age of 35 at the time of your spouse's or common-law partner's death, you may be entitled to receive a Canada Pension Plan survivor's pension only if you have a dependent child or if you are disabled. Your disabling condition can be physical or mental.

According to the Canada Pension Plan legislation, your disability must be "severe and prolonged". "Severe" means your condition prevents you from working regularly at any job, and "prolonged" means your condition is long term or may result in your death. The "severe" and "prolonged" criteria must both be met at the time of application.

If you feel this applies to you and you have not already applied for the disability pension, please contact us.

Section C: Information about the child(ren) of the deceased

The child(ren) of the deceased could be eligible for a surviving child's benefit. To be eligible, the child(ren) must be the deceased's:

- natural child;
- legally adopted child;
- child adopted in fact; or
- a child who was legally or in fact in the care and custody of the deceased.

The child must also be a dependent child of the deceased. A dependent child is a child who, at the time of death of the deceased, was:

- under the age of 18; or
- between the ages of 18 and 25 and was attending school or university full-time.

A child may receive up to two benefits under the Canada Pension Plan if both parents were Canada Pension Plan contributors and are either deceased or are disabled, and if all conditions of eligibility are met for both benefits.

If a child is 18 years old, he/she must complete and submit the forms "Application for Canada Pension Plan Child's Benefit (for children between ages 18 and 25)" and the "Declaration of Attendance at School or University". The child must be attending school or university full-time to receive or continue to receive the benefit.

Box 20

Do you have any children under the age of 18?

If you have children under the age of 18 in your care and custody, please complete question 20.

NOTE: If a child was in the care and custody of the deceased but is now in the care and custody of someone other than you, that person must apply on the child's behalf for that child to receive the benefit.

You do not need to provide proof of birth for the children if you provided their Social Insurance Number in the application. However, the Canada Pension Plan has the right to request proof of birth at any time, when deemed necessary. If you did not provide the Social Insurance Number of the children, then you must submit a certified true copy of the children's original birth certificate.

If you do not have this document and the children were born in Canada, please refer to the previous section 1B "Date of Birth", on how to obtain birth evidence.

Box 21

Do you have any children between the ages of 18 and 25 attending school, college or university full-time?

If you have children between the ages of 18 and 25, please complete question 21 and we will send an application to each child that is listed. The child must be attending school or university full-time to receive the benefit.

When will my survivor's pension and child(ren) benefit(s) start?

If your application is approved, your survivor's pension will normally begin the later of:

- the month after the death of the contributor;
- the 11th month prior to the month your application is received.

The child(ren) benefit(s) will begin the later of:

- the month after the death of the contributor;
- the month after the birth of the child;
- the 11th month prior to the month your application is received.

You can receive a retroactive payment for up to 11 months from when we receive your application but this retroactive period cannot cover any months prior to the month after the month of death of the contributor or the month after the month of birth of the child. If you are covered under the Incapacity provision (see the following section), retroactive payments could be made for more than 11 months.

Incapacity

Protection is available for persons who did not apply for a Canada Pension Plan pension benefit since they were unable to apply or to ask someone to apply on their behalf because of their medical condition. If you feel this applies to you, please contact us to obtain a "Declaration of Incapacity" form.

Non-Resident Tax

If you are a non-resident of Canada for income tax purposes, we may deduct a Non-Resident Tax from your monthly benefit. The tax rate is 25% of your monthly benefit unless the country you live in has a tax treaty with Canada that reduces the rate or exempts you from paying the tax.

Sometimes you can benefit from paying tax at the same rate as residents of Canada by filing a yearly Canadian income tax return. The Canada Revenue Agency will determine if you are due for a refund of any Non-Resident Tax you may have paid. You can also reduce the amount of tax we withhold from your survivor's benefit by completing a yearly "Application by a Non-Resident of Canada for a Reduction in the Amount of Non-Resident Tax Required to be Withheld" (Form NR5).

This form can be obtained by writing to the:
International Tax Services Office
Canada Revenue Agency
2204 Walkley Road
Ottawa, Ontario

or by calling:

Applicant's declaration

To complete the application, you have to sign and date it in this section.

NOTE: If you make a false or misleading statement, you may be subject to an administrative monetary penalty and interest, if any, under the Canada Pension Plan, or may be charged with an offence. Any benefits you received or obtained to which there was no entitlement would have to be repaid.

Witness's declaration

If you signed your application with a mark, a witness has to sign and date the application in that section and provide their name, address, relationship to you, and telephone number in case we need to contact that person.

Other information you should read before mailing your application

Before you mail your application

Before you send this application form to us, please make sure that you have:

- completed, signed and dated your application; and
- enclosed certified photocopies or any original documents we need.

Please refer to the "Check List" at the beginning of this information sheet for the documents we need.

When we receive your application

Once we receive your application and any supporting documents, we will review your application and contact you if we need more information. We will send you a letter once we have completed our review to let you know if you are eligible.

If you have not heard from us by the time you expect your first payment, please contact us at the telephone numbers listed in the section called "How to contact us" at the beginning of this information sheet.

What you must do after your pension starts

If you move

You must tell us if you move, even if your pension is being sent to another address or is being deposited directly into your financial institution account. This way, we will be able to send you important information and the tax slips you need for income tax purposes. Also, if you move outside of Canada or from one country to another, your tax status may change. If you do not inform us of an address change and you should have paid a higher tax rate, you will have to repay any overpayments.

If you change financial institutions or account numbers

If your payment is directly deposited, please let us know if you change financial institutions or accounts. Do not close your old account until you are sure that your pension is being deposited into your new account.

If the Canada Pension Plan recipient dies

The estate representative must inform Service Canada as soon as possible of the death of the recipient. Your estate can receive benefits for the month of your death. If we do not get the information quickly enough, any benefits paid after the month of death will have to be paid back.

If you become disabled or cease to be disabled

Please notify us if you become disabled or cease to be disabled.
